CRIME REPORTING PROCESS
The Student Services Department prepares this report to comply with the Clery Act of 1998. CRY-ROP does not possess campus housing, including fraternity or sorority homes. In addition, information is shared during the "New Program Orientation" and Students are shown where the report is located on CRY-ROP's website.

HOW TO REPORT A CRIME OR CRIMINAL ACTIVITY ON CAMPUS
All suspicious activity or possible criminal activity should be reported to CRY-ROP staff or security personnel as soon as possible. For situations of eminent danger, call "911" ("911" from a CRY-ROP extension) to report directly to the local city police. Following the incident, CRY-ROP staff completes an incident report to be reviewed by supervisory staff to ensure the appropriate reporting and follow-up procedures have been followed. An organizational log of all incidents is maintained by supervisory staff.

CRY-ROP investigates security violations and/or criminal activity. CRY- ROP alerts staff and students of patterns that become apparent.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION PROCEDURES, MEETING AREA, EXIT MAPS

DESIGNATED EVACUATION AREA

When there is a need to evacuate the buildings located on campus, a common area has been designated which is located in the parking lot behind the A building. The common area has been designated to reduce the possibility of injury to members of the campus community through an organized evacuation procedure. The meeting area is free from overhead power lines and other dangers.

In addition, on the first day of each new term the Director of Student Services, Coordinator of Facilities, and the Student Services staff conduct a New Student Orientation. During the presentation, campus safety information and procedures are reviewed.

Evacuation and practice drills are conducted at least three times a year in order for staff and students to practice what to do in the event of a real emergency. Evacuations are conducted as follows:
- To alert the campus community that a hazard exists.
- To conduct an orderly and safe evacuation using a designated route.
- To ensure that the evacuation is conducted in a safe and orderly manner.

A fire alarm system is used to notify the campus of an evacuation.

TIMELY WARNINGS:

Timely warnings are provided to students and staff to give notification of crimes or other emergency situations that occur on the campus and are considered to represent a serious or continuing threat to students and/or staff. Timely warnings are not limited to violent crimes or crimes against a person but may also include threats to property.

The decision to issue a timely warning is based on the nature of the crime or incident, the continuing danger to the campus community, and the possible risk of compromising law enforcement efforts. The timely warnings allow the members of the campus community to protect themselves. Timely warning reports are provided to the campus community in a variety of ways so that the warnings are able to reach the entire campus community. Warnings and information are provided through email, posters, website, banners and/or cell phone texts.

Warnings include information about the incident, precautions to take and other pertinent information to assist students and staff to remain safe, to take appropriate safeguards and promote safety that will aid in the prevention of similar crimes or other emergency situations.

SAFETY DRILLS:

Emergency response and evacuation procedures are conducted at least three times per calendar year. Annually the organization participates in the "The Great California Shake Out" in October.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION, MEETING AREA, EXITS & PROCEDURES

During evacuations it is mandatory that everyone on campus observe the following procedures:

1. Stay calm. Immediately stop work and listen for instructions. Do not pick up supplies, belongings or work in progress.
2. Follow staff directions for exiting the area.
3. After exiting proceed to the designated meeting area located in the parking lot behind Building A.
4. If it is not safe to assemble in the parking lot then follow the directions of staff. Make sure to move away from the buildings.
5. Do not reenter the buildings until the "all clear" has been given from campus administrators.

FIRE SAFETY:
The Higher Education Opportunity Act requires academic institutions to annually report fire statistics on campus. CRY-ROP does not offer resident housing and therefore does not provide a fire safety report.

Any incident of a fire occurring on campus will be reported immediately to the Redlands Fire Department. Staff and/or students should report the incident involving fire to the fire department by calling "911" ("911" from a CRY-ROP extension).

After a report has been made the Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent-Education Services, Director of Student Services, Facilities Coordinator, Director of Business, ICT Manager, and the local Fire Department will assess the situation and facilities. Any suspected fire, detection of smoke, or visible manifestation of a fire must be considered as a working fire and treated by responding personnel as factual rather than as a possibility.

FIRE SAFETY PROCEDURES:
There are fire alarms located in each classroom and office space on campus. CRY-ROP fire alarms sound in the event there is a fire on campus. Students and staff should become familiar with the building evacuation plan. The evacuation plan is posted in all classrooms, every department and throughout each building. On the first day of each program a student orientation is given and the emergency information is reviewed with all students.

CONDUCT:

CRY-ROP's Governing Board believes that all students have the right to be educated in a positive learning environment free from disruptions. Students shall be expected to exhibit appropriate conduct that does not infringe upon the rights of others or interfere with the school program while on school grounds, while going to or coming from school, and while at school activities. Conduct is considered appropriate when students are diligent in study, careful with school property, courteous, and respectful toward their teachers, other staff, students, and volunteers.

The Superintendent or designee shall ensure that the development of standards of conduct and discipline are consistent with ROP policies and administrative regulations. Students are notified of CRY-ROP's school rules related to conduct. At the time of registration students are expected to review and sign the "CRY-ROP Rules of Conduct".

Prohibited student conduct includes:

- Conduct that endangers students, staff, or others including, but not limited to, physical violence, possession of a firearm or other weapon, and terrorist threats
- Discrimination, harassment, intimidation, or bullying of students or staff, including sexual harassment, hate-motivated behavior, cyberbullying, hazing or initiation activity, extortion, or any other verbal, written, or physical conduct that causes or threatens to cause violence, bodily harm, or substantial disruption
- Cyberbullying includes the posting of harassing messages, direct threats, social cruelty, or other harmful text or images on the Internet, social networking sites, or other digital technologies, as well as breaking into another person's account and assuming that person's identity in order to damage that person's reputation or friendships.
- Conduct that disrupts the orderly classroom or school environment.
- Willful defiance of staff's authority.
- Damage to or theft of property belonging to students, staff, or the ROP.
- Use of profane, vulgar, or abusive language.
- Possession, use, or being under the influence of tobacco, alcohol, or other prohibited drugs.
- Employees are expected to provide appropriate supervision to enforce standards of conduct and, if they observe or receive a report of a violation of these standards, to immediately intervene or call for assistance. If an employee believes a matter has not been resolved, he/she shall refer the matter to his/her supervisor or administrator for further investigation.
- Students also may be subject to discipline in accordance with law, Board policy, and administrative regulation for any off-campus conduct during non-school hours which poses a threat or danger to the safety of students, staff, or ROP property or disrupts the orderly delivery of the educational program.

NOTICE OF VICTIM'S RIGHTS

CRY-ROP does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational programs or hiring practices. Sexual harassment and sexual violence are types of sex discrimination. Other acts can also be forms of sex discrimination and are also prohibited whether sexually based or not and include dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking. As a result, CRY-ROP issues this statement to inform the community of CRY-ROP's stand. Whether the incident occurs on or off campus and when it is reported to a staff person assistance will be given and the person will be encouraged to seek the assistance of local police and supportive services. CRY-ROP prohibits the offense of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking and reaffirms its commitment to maintain a campus environment emphasizing the dignity and worth of the community for staff and students alike.

HATE CRIMES

CRY-ROP does not condone hate violence, sexual harassment, rape, domestic violence, or any other type of harassment or injury caused to another person. CRY-ROP aims to safeguard the rights guaranteed by law and the United States Constitution as safeguarded for all persons regardless of their ethnicity, national origin, religion, gender, sexual identity, disability, or political/religious beliefs. Hate violence according to the statue means "… any act of physical intimidation or physical harassment, physical force or violence or the threat of physical force or violence, that is directed against any person or persons because of the ethnicity, race, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability or political/religious beliefs of that person or group." Hate incidents should be immediately reported to staff. If a hate crime occurs it is reported on the campus crime statistics portion of this report.

REGISTERED SEX OFFENDER INFORMATION

The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act (CSCPA) of 2000, a federal law, requires institutions of higher education provide the campus community with information on the registry of registered sex offenders. CSCPA also requires registered sex offenders provide notice, as required under state law, to each institution of higher education for which the person is currently enrolled as a student, full or part time employee (with or without compensation), or those participating in a vocation. To learn the identity of registered sex offenders on or near the CRY-ROP campus, visit the Sex Offender databases at http://www.sexoffender.com or http://nsopr.gov. Search is available by city, county, or zip code.

This information is collected by other agencies and the institution cannot guarantee this information is correct or complete. The information provided is intended to be in compliance with the Campus Security Act and for use by the campus community only. It should not be used to intimidate, threaten, or harass. Anyone viewing this information should understand that the intentional misuse of this information may result in prosecution.

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN ACT OF 1994

The Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) was developed and passed as a result of advocates and professionals from the battered women's movement, sexual assault advocates, victim services field, law enforcement agencies, prosecutors' offices, the courts, and the private bar urging Congress to adopt significant legislation to address domestic and sexual violence. Since its original passage in 1994, VAWA's focus has expanded from domestic violence and sexual assault to also include dating violence and stalking. It funds services to protect adult and teen victims of these crimes, and supports training on these issues, to ensure consistent responses across the country. VAWA focuses on a coordinated community response to domestic violence, sex dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking; courts, law enforcement, prosecutors, victim services, and the private bar currently work together in a coordinated effort that had not heretofore existed on the state and local levels. VAWA also supports the work of community-based organizations that are engaged in work to end domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking; particularly those groups that provide culturally and linguistically specific services.

CRY-ROP's staff have been trained to encourage any student who shares they have been subject to domestic violence, any type of rape, and/or any other type of sexual violence should report the incident(s) immediately to local enforcement agencies. Referrals can be made to local community resource agencies to provide support to the victim.

VICTIMS OF RAGE OR SEXUAL VIOLENCE SHOULD FOLLOW THESE STEPS

Immediately report the incident to the local Police Department. Get a medical examination at the hospital or at your private doctor's office right away. Note: Before seeing the doctor, the victim should not douche, bathe, shower, or change clothes, as this would destroy valuable evidence. Students should inform the doctor of the act committed upon them. The doctor should take semen smears and note any injuries.

The victim should inform the police of all details and give police any clothing stained or torn during the attack. Contact the Director of Student Services Office with regard to a change in the academic situation after an alleged sex offense if the incident involved another student or staff.

PROTECTING EVIDENCE IN SEXUAL OFFENSE CASES

To assist law enforcement authorities in prosecuting violators of sexual assaults, victims should not destroy evidence that may be used in such prosecutions. This evidence could be destroyed by bathing and washing away residue of the violator's semen, hairs, or DNA from their bodies, or by discarding soiled clothing that may still contain important evidence.

PRECAUTIONS TO TAKE AGAINST SEXUAL VIOLENT CRIMES

Avoid becoming intoxicated in public and at parties -- keep yourself to a 1-2 drink limit.

- Always keep your eye on every beverage you drink.
- Do not give out personal information (such as your location or mobile number or address) or your daily schedule to a stranger or online.
- Acknowledge and understand that consent to sexual activity can be withdrawn at any time.
- Communicate your sexual and relationship boundaries clearly. No does not mean "yes." Be firm in your choice.
- Be cautious if a person habitually tends to negate your opinions and feelings:
- Be cautious with anyone who displays hostility towards a gender or tends to verbally degrade and stereotype an entire gender.
- Be assertive with anyone who ignores your personal boundaries, regardless of the length of time you've been acquainted with the person.
- If you feel uncomfortable during a date, but have no transportation, call a cab, friend or family member, or use public transportation.
- Avoid going into secluded areas with your date until you have known the person for some time.
- Always let someone know who you are going with and what your itinerary is. Check in with family and friends until you get to know your date.
- A person should never make you feel obligated to engage in a sexual act (this includes kissing) simply because they paid for drinks/dinner/entertainment.
- Do not go to an apartment, house or hotel room if you do not know the person well, and don't let them follow you to your home.
- Don't be afraid to leave an uncomfortable environment.
- Do not be afraid to make a scene if you feel threatened by an acquaintance.
- When going out with friends, watch out for one another.
- Do not personally engage in or allow anyone in your presence to engage in sexual behavior with a highly intoxicated, high or unconscious individual.

Students receiving Title IV benefits must also sign an acknowledgement.

COMPUTER & INTERNET USER AGREEMENT

The Colton-Redlands-Yucaipa Regional Occupational Program is committed to provide electronic information services, including but not limited to computers, Internet and electronic mail as part of the instructional program. Staff believes in the educational value of electronic information services. Staff recognizes the potential to support curriculum and student learning by facilitating resource sharing, innovation and communication. All technology users must follow CRY-ROP's guidelines and avoid using electronic information services in an illegal or otherwise inappropriate manner. All CRY-ROP's data transmission equipment and other electronic information resources, such as computers, voice mail, and e-mail are property of CRY-ROP and intended for educational purposes and to carry out authorized CRY-ROP business. Specifically, e-mail and other electronic information services are not to be used for personal business, non-CRY-ROP commercial use, entertainment, solicitation, or personal causes. You also may not use CRY-ROP electronic information services for any communication which would in any way be disruptive, insulting, harassing, disparaging, fraudulent, libelous, offensive, threatening to any person, or harmful to minors.

- Keep your valuables out of sight, under the seat, or in the glove compartment or trunk.
- Park in well-lighted areas.

SELF DEFENSE
- If someone tries to snatch your purse or other personal belongings, let it go.
- If you are attacked, whether you resist and how you resist will depend on your personal resources and your personal values. Give some thought right now to what you would do in various situations that could arise. The more you have planned ahead, the more likely you will be to act in the way you have planned.
- In considering your reactions to different situations, keep these three basic rules in mind:
    1. Trust your instincts.
    2. Don't be afraid to be impolite or make a scene; this is especially important if someone you know threatens or attacks you.
    3. Try to remain calm, use your imagination and good judgment; give yourself time to think.
